Development Plot Southwater, Telford town centre's leisure quarter

Location

This site is in the heart of Southwater in central Telford, directly adjacent to the Travelodge and Southwater Lake which has direct site access off St Quentin Gate / Park Avenue.

Southwater is a £250 million mixed leisure development which opened in 2014 making the land suitable for both commercial and leisure use.

Description

Southwater is currently home to an IMAX cinema, bowling alley, ice rink, library, music venue Albert's Shed, and 11 restaurants and bars including Flying Elephant, The Liquor Lab and popular UK chains such as, Wagamama, Nando's, Zizzi, Bella Italia, Pizza Express and Miller & Carter.

Telford is recognised for having a national focus for both economic and housing growth and lies approximately 32 miles northwest of Birmingham city centre and 15 miles east of Shrewsbury.

It welcomes 4.4 million visitors per year for business and leisure and has a thriving nighttime visitor economy.

Within two minutes' walk of Southwater is the Telford Centre, which has undergone a £250m transformation over the last 4 years - offering a high footfall shopping centre with 160 outlets.

Also within walking distance is the 150 hectare award winning Telford Town Park which hosts a range of seasonal events including outdoor concerts, sporting events and an annual hot air balloon fiesta attracting in the region of 15,000 attendees.

The Telford International Centre also sits next to Southwater, which is ranked sixth best in the UK for purpose build conference centres alongside high profile venues including the NEC in Birmingham and Liverpool ACC.
